ABOUT LASHON

Lashon Thomas, a rising hip-hop, R&B, and soul artist, hails from Miami, Florida. Growing up, Lashon was a talented athlete, participating in basketball, track, and cross country. Throughout her middle school and high school career, she was awarded MVP 15 times. Lashon was also a part of the Elite Youth Basketball League (EYBL), where elite athletes played in front of Division 1 coaches. Despite her success on the court, Lashon didn't have a passion for sports and chose to attend Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University (FAMU) for their theatre program. Unfortunately, Lashon was unable to perform due to her commitment to the basketball team and ended up failing the program.

In Summer 2018, Lashon made the bold decision to leave FAMU and move to New York to attend the American Academy of Dramatic Arts. It was here where she finally found her true passion for performing arts, but she still felt unfulfilled. After graduating in 2020, Lashon discovered a new love - writing and performing music. She spent two years honing her craft and winning underground championships for rapping.

Now, in 2023, Lashon is ready to make her mark as a music artist. With her athletic background, passion for performing arts, and dedication to her craft, Lashon is set to have a breakthrough year in the music industry. Watch this rising female artist as she takes the stage and showcases her talent.
